Mr. Geo. H. Davies, editor of the only all wool and a yard wide free-grass paper in the free state of Montague, the Bowie Cross Timbers, was in the city yesterday making arrangements to publish a special edition of his paper for circulation at the New Orleans exposition. George is a "worker" and his push and energy ought to be appreciated by the merchants of Bowie.

Messrs. Morrison and Fourmy directory publishers for the state of Texas, with headquarters at Galveston, are in the city for the purpose of getting up a new directory of the Fort. The citizens should aid these gentlemen in their efforts to obtain a complete list of the people in this city, and otherwise give them substantial aid. They have gotten up the directories of all the principal cities in Texas for several years in a highly satisfactory manner, and the fact that they have the task of getting up a new one for our city is a guarantee that the work will be well done.

J. A. Holland, Esq., accompanied by his family, will bid farewell to Marlin this evening and leave for Fort Worth, which city they will make their future home. Mr. Holland for a number of years has been one of the leading members of the Marlin bar, and it is with unfeigned regret that we note his departure. He is a gentleman of the first order and a live and progressive citizen. In seeking a wider range for his ability and usefulness in the metropolis of Northwest Texas, our best wishes go with him and his estimable family. Mr. Holland is highly impressed with Fort Worth as a center of education and future greatness.—[Marlin Ball.]

The Peter Smith Hose company held a meeting in the Fourth-ward firemen's hall.

Travel over the various roads is comparatively light, but more people get on and off the cars, etc.

If the colored Blaine and Logan club in this city was in Indiana it could afford to get in a big bluff.

There is a dangerous hole in the bridge over the Trinity just north of the city which should be repaired at once.

The fire department yesterday received a new supply of the latest patented nozzles and service pipes from Chicago.

Hon. Wash Jones is booked for a speech in this city next Saturday night. He will draw a full house to hear him.

The Ladies' Exposition society will hold a meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The members are requested to be present.

The Mistletoe club will give one of their elegant soirees at Godwin's hall on Friday evening, 31st inst. The members are requested to call on C. W. Lamborn for tickets.

The dense volume of smoke arising from the refrigerating works southeast of the city tells the passengers on the Texas & Pacific road that this great establishment is again in operation.

Some of the business men are complaining that the candidates are becoming a nuisance, monopolizing the time of employees to such an extent as to seriously interfere with business.

The cotton-seed oil mill is about ready for operations and will soon be opened for business. It will be a public benefactor in providing a home market for the cotton seed of our farmers.

The public square should be graded and graveled before winter arrives. This would be a good work for the county commissioners to do, and it would be appreciated by the farmers of Tarrant county.

The voters of this city and Tarrant county should carefully examine the ballots they will cast in the coming election. Many different combinations are being made up; Republican candidates are being placed on the Democratic ticket and vice versa. Wash Jones for governor will be found under the names of the Democratic electors and, in fact, the combinations are so numerous that each voter should carefully scrutinize his ticket before placing it in the ballot box.

After 1 o'clock this morning a lamp exploded in the shooting gallery near the variety theater, and some one fired three pistol shots to give the alarm. The flames were quickly extinguished, but the shots created quite a sensation. The firing of pistols on such occasions should be stopped if possible.

Fort Worth has the best fire department in the state, yet the assertion is made that one member of the council advocates the selling of one of the hose carts. This, THE GAZETTE thinks, would be false economy, as the department is now fully able to keep down disastrous fires and exorbitant insurance rates.

A fire alarm was turned on last night which brought out the department in a short time. Some one had set fire to the vacant stable near the Taylor street-car line on Thirteenth street. The Peter Smith Hose company soon extinguished the flames. This is the second time this stable has been set on fire.

It is reported that a building boom will be inaugurated on Main street immediately after the election, and that a number of handsome brick business houses will be built on that thoroughfare this fall. Fort Worth never lags, and will soon be the most beautiful, as she is now the most prosperous, city in the Southwest.

The postponed game of base ball, the last league game of the season, between the Dallas nine and the reorganized Fort Worth nine, will be played at the base ball park in this city next Sunday. The Fort Worth club is a strong one, notwithstanding the departure of several of the players. New men have been engaged to fill their places, and the game is sure to prove an interesting one.

In regard to the alleged mass meeting held by the colored Blaine and Logan club, it is said by some that the club did not agree to support the candidates named in the printed report. These names were handed THE GAZETTE by Messrs. Burrell Johnson and E. Hines, the chairman and secretary of the committee appointed to select the candidates, with the statement that the club intended to support the candidates named.

Yesterday a reporter of THE GAZETTE was shown a specimen of needle work which is hard to beat. It is a "quilt" made by Mrs. Laura Blair of Clarksville, Tex. The quilt is made of silk, satin and velvet and has numerous exquisite designs, including birds, butterflies and insects. It will be on exhibition at the New Orleans exposition as an evidence of Southern civilization. Mrs. Blair is a daughter of Mrs. M. C. Blair of Fort Worth.

Grand Millinery Opening

at Miss Loughbridge's to-morrow and next day.

Remember.

This is the day for Mrs. C. D. Brown's grand opening. The writer caught a glimpse of some of the goods that will be on exhibition to-day, and he pronounces them beautiful. Ladies who visit this bazaar of fashion to-day will have a sight of rare and desirable goods to examine.

The stock of zephyr shawls and knit goods shown by Randall & Chambers Co., is worth the notice of close buyers.

Ivers & Pond Pianos.

The Ivers & Pond pianofortes are steadily gaining in public favor. The New England Conservatory of Music has lately ordered six more of them, which, in addition to the fifty purchased ten years ago and twenty last year and a few smaller orders of the Ivers & Pond instruments, make eighty purchased by the conservatory. —[Boston Traveler, Oct. 21.]

Our townman, Max Elser, is the state agent for the above piano and if the sales he is constantly making is any criterion this excellent instrument is as popular in Texas as in the East. Those in want of a first-class piano at a reasonable price should not fail to see the Ivers & Pond before buying.

Pure Apple Vinegar.

For a long time the inquiry for a strictly pure apple vinegar has been met with a negative reply, and the result is, citizens of Fort Worth have been using only an acid preparation, very deleterious in its effects. The Fort Worth Grocer company have just received a shipment directly from the orchards of Tennessee, and can guarantee it to be positively strictly pure. Try a gallon.
